PEACE FOR NICARAGUA PROSPECT

Liberal Army Chief
Announces Readiness to Lay Down Arms

MANAGUA (Nicaragua), May 5. (AP)—Though no definite peace settlement has been reached by Henry J. Stimson, President Coolidge's representative, as mediator between the warring Liberals and Conservatives, Gen. Jose Maria Moncada, commander of the Liberal army, announced in effect that on the insistence of the United States he is ready to lay down arms.

After an interview with Mr. Stimson, Gen. Moncada said to the correspondent of the Associated Press: "The view seems certain that the United States is prepared to take the field against us if fighting continues and I am prepared to order my troops to lay down their arms, turning them over to the United States troops."

"As continuation of Diaz (as President) is essential to the United States program, we are unable to resist, but we are not signing any peace agreement bearing such a provision."

"We are forced by a greater power to cease our fight, but as peace will be the result I shall devote my effort to help in restoring order, so that the Liberals may gain legitimate and honest control in the 1928 election which will be supervised by the United States."

Gen. Moncada is proceeding to Somoza tomorrow to announce his decision to the Liberal troops.

TORJO, May 5. (AP)—Lengthy and caustic interpellations today occupied the Japanese Diet which is considering the measure introduced by the newly formed Tanaka Ministry guaranteeing advances by the Bank of Japan to other Japanese banks in order to overcome the present financial difficulties of the banks.

The opposition, apparently dissatisfied with the government's measures for stabilization of the situation, asked for further enlightenment. One interpellator went so far as to accuse the government of deceiving the Japanese people by not explaining that the taxpayers must bear the burden of any loss by the Bank of Japan which the government would guarantee.

Finance Minister Takahashi warned the diet that there was still danger of bank runs and the termination of the twenty-one-day moratorium which is in effect.

DIVA SUES MAGNATE

Million Asked by Frieda Hempel

New York Capitalist Said to Have Defaulted on Prenuptial Pact

Defense Asks More Data on
"Valuable Consideration" Cited in Complaint

NEW YORK, May 5. (AP)—August Heckcher, 70-year-old financier and philanthropist, is being sued for an amount estimated at $1,000,000 or more by Frieda Hempel, international noted German opera singer, more than thirty years his junior, on the basis of a prenuptial contract, it was revealed today.

From arguments submitted to the Supreme Court today, it was indicated that the aged millionaire, whose engagement to Miss Hempel has been rumored in America and Europe since last year, was to give the singer $4,000,000 annually for the rest of her life.

The suit was disclosed when Mr. Heckcher's attorney moved today to obtain a new complaint from Miss Hempel. The only information obtained was taken from the arguments on the motion. Attorneys for both sides refused to discuss the action.

TROTH NOT DENIED
Neither Mr. Heckcher nor Miss Hempel ever has made a definite denial when asked about the reports, originating in Europe, that they were engaged.

Miss Hempel last year in Paris was divorced from Wilhelm K. Kahle, New York banker, to whom she was married June 8, 1918. Mr. Heckcher has been a widower for four years.

Since coming to this country as an immigrant from Hamburg, Germany, he has built up a large fortune in metals, utilities and banking. Of late years he has confined his business interests principally to New York real estate, having become owner of the largest property owners in the city.

Miss Hempel was born in Leipzig, Germany, June 28, 1880. She time appeared in grand opera in various cities of the United States and Europe. She was the principal coloratura soprano of the Berlin Opera. Since 1912 she has been starred with the Metropolitan Opera Company here.

ATTORNEY'S PROTEST
In seeking an amended complaint in Miss Hempel's action today, counsel for Mr. Heckcher said it was necessary because the suit involves probably $1,000,000 or more. It was said this estimate was based on the amount that would accrue in time from payments under the asserted contract. Mr. Heckcher's lawyer said the present complaint does not show whether the prenuptial contract was in writing. He said also that the character of the consideration was not stated. He said that the conditions were not stated.

When the complaint on which Miss Hempel's action is based was filed today, it was learned the singer demanded that the elderly millionaire pay her $1,000,000. She demanded "on or about April, 1926." Under this agreement, she said, Heckcher was to pay her quarterly installment of $125,000 on the first day of January, April, July and October.

In July, 1926, she said, he had paid her the first quarterly installment but, with this exception he had neglected to make the payments as provided. As for her outfitting, she said, she had performed all the terms of the covenant and conditions of the agreement.

Justice Cavegn reserved decision on the motion for the amended complaint. Mr. Heckcher asked for Europe early this morning.

STAR'S COMPLAINT
The account of the contract as contained in Miss Hempel's complaint, follows:
"On or about April, 1926, the plaintiff (Miss Hempel) entered into an agreement. The defendant, for valuable consideration promised and agreed to pay the plaintiff from and after April 1, 1926, during the remainder of her natural life, $4,000,000 per year in installments of $1,000,000 each, payable on the first day of January, April, July and October during her life."

Cutting the Melon!

COMING
UP!

BREAKFAST

CANTALOUPE
HAM AND
HOT CAKES

NEW ORLEANS, May 5. (AP)—Through the air and across rapids streams and newly made lakes, rescue forces moved swiftly today in a race with flood waters for the safety of many thousands of persons in eastern Louisiana.

Hundreds who had sought refuge on the Mississippi river levees as St. Joseph, between Vicksburg and Natchez, were moved to refuge camps at these places, but National Guard officers reported after a day's flight along the winding course of the rushing river between 8000 and 8000 at other points on the protective embankments. Further inland, small craft boats launched from rescue craft on the river blew through flood and back waters, being stiff currents at times, seeking out those who had been unable to reach high ground and thus had a more severe a haven than a bobbed roof top or a tree.

REFUSE TO LEAVE
At many points, where the water had risen to only six or eight feet, the rescuers frequently met with the refusal of the inhabitants to leave. This was particularly true in the Cordoba parish, practically all of which is under water.

Explaining this state of affairs, H. B. Conner of Vidalia, a member of the State Legislature, said: "Three-fourths of the 12,000 people in the parish preferred to remain by their homes and farms so as to be able to start planting crops in the spring. The water is now so high that the inhabitants are living in the upper stories of their homes and have no means of escape from above the water or on large rafts."

With no more immediate breaks in the levees threatened, the State is turning its attention to rescue work, though there was no relaxing vigilance and effort to probable danger areas, such as those along the Old River, the Red and the Grand.

FLOOD MOVES EAST
Avalanche coming from Baton Rouge reported to John M. Parker, the dictator for the State, that the waters from Arkansas still were moving swiftly southward and that a cure to the south had developed or practically all of the inundated area. This was forcing the State to turn its attention to the Old River and the Mississippi. Engineers were straining their efforts to keep the levees from breaking and to prevent inundation of vast stretches of the south, which would devastate millions of acres of rich farm land and many more towns.

Far to the northward in St. Louis, low trouble points arose, protecting dikes, breaking and threatening inundation of that town. A report came of the overflow of the Osage river from Minnesota with a head wash over a ten-mile stretch to Magnolia. Here the levee broke, and the future in the valley came from Washington both with the announcement that the Mississippi River Commission had asked by the War Department for revised report on the project for flood control.

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) May 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Every edition tells of more levees breaking and more people in danger. This Sunday is Mother's Day. A beautiful thought, however started it. Now what could please your mother more, either living or dead, than to mail $1 to your nearest Red Cross for the flood. Even if you have given, give again just because it's in memory of your mother. Spend one more dollar on our own unfortunate, and if your mother is living, write her and tell her what you have done. Come on, editorial writers, you ask them to do it.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

P.S.—And when you write your mother, if you don't think the shock will be too great, you might inclose her some money just for a change.

MAY ENDS ALL MYSTERY OVER DEATH OF SNYDERPlot and Poison Recited Without Hint of Compassion; Brutality Wins Sympathy

BY W. E. WOODWARD

Author of "Bank" and Other Books

SUNSHINE COUNTY COURTHOUSE, LONG ISLAND

May 5. (Exclusive)—There is no longer a trace of the story on the stand has cleared up every point. His story was like a chapter out of Dostoevsky, and he told it in the midst of a cathedral silence. There must have been a room space intended to hold 500, but for many he told his story there was hardly the least stir or movement. He continued to meet

Mrs. Snyder and spend nights with her. In a short time we see Gray, although he still objected to her plan, discussing ways and means with her, telling her what he thought was the best method of killing her. Then he went further. He went about buying chloroform, picture wire and a small weight for Mrs. Snyder's use, though he kept on telling her, he said, that she ought not to do it.

Murder was a terrible thing, he thought, but he was willing to help it along if somebody else would only do the actual killing.

Now we come to the next step. He has gone from an utter horror of murder to a tacit co-operation in carrying it out. But now Mrs. Snyder tells him that she cannot do it alone;

she is not physically strong enough.

So he turns in and kills her husband, a deed in which Mrs. Snyder acts as Gray's assistant.

TRUTH GIVES SYMPATHY

The masculine character of popular sentiment in respect to murderers is well illustrated by the fact that Gray's utterly brutal and heartless confession aroused much sympathy for him among the spectators. Why? Because he was a man.

"MAGNETISM" OF WOMAN

GIVEN BLAME BY GRAY

NEW YORK, May 5. (P)—It was a woman's "magnetism" that pulled

Henry Judd Gray 500 miles to help

Mrs. Ruth Snyder murder her sleeping husband, the dapper little corset salesman testified today at the Snyder-Gray murder trial. Gray today testified in the trial and described the killing of Albert Snyder as "murder" while under cross-examination. By Dana Wallace, of counsel for Mrs. Snyder, Mr. Wallace was thundering questions at him in an attempt to rid the dramatic recreation of the murder Gray gave Wednesday afternoon.

Gray told of traveling from Syracuse to New York to be led by the hand of Mrs. Snyder, both of them armed with lethal instruments, to the bedside of sleeping Albert Snyder, her husband. He testified that he never had seen Albert Snyder; that he joined a plot to kill a man against whom he had no enmity whatsoever.

He demonstrated, with the fatal weight upraised and gripped with both hands, how he had struck the first blow.

HE WANTS TO KNOW

And then Dana Wallace wanted to know how Gray expected "the judge and jury" to believe that a woman's influence could reach out over a distance of 800 miles and be the lodgestone of death. No motive for Gray's part in the murder had been definitely enunciated. States of mind had been described only when Gray, of counsel, read from his confession. In the confession he pictured himself a criminal, drunk-defiant automaton.

So Mr. Wallace wanted to know how it came about that Gray, with a bottle of chloroform in his pocket and a murder plot in his head, had smoked at midnight into the Synder home.

But it was his magnetism," Gray replied.

THE SLEEPING POWERS

The dominance, Gray said, began about a year before the murder. He said that he had been attracted to

JAPAN DECRIES DISCRIMINATION

Tendency Toward National Isolation Protested

World Economic Council Geneva Proposal

Trusts and Rings Declared Danger to Peace

GENEVA (Switzerland), May 5. (AP)—Allying to the exclusion of Japanese from various countries, M. Schidach, Japanese delegate, told the International Economic Conference today that the "outstanding and unfortunate" world tendencies are the post-war protective tariffs, monopolistic control of raw material and inequitable distribution of population.

He emphasized the necessity of the solution of these problems, contending that the discriminatory treatment of persons and goods was an obstacle to commerce. The economic unrest and incessant internal strife in China are a source of great concern to all nations, especially Japan, and he hoped peace would come, thus opening to the world China's vast resources.

CRISIS NO SURPRISE
The Japanese delegation, he said, was not surprised at the Japanese financial crisis, which he said was due to lack of foresight and the administration of the authorities and mismanagement of some banking concerns. He was counsel that Japan would recover, though readjustment would demand careful study and discussion.

Another reference to emigration came from the Chilean delegate, Senor Diaz Vial, who said that South America needed capital and labor, and that emigrants would find remunerative employment there.

M. Joubert, French labor leader, then moved the creation of a new economic organism at Geneva, which would be for economic matters what the existing League of Nations Council is for political questions. The French project proposes an international economic council of eighteen members, representing various world economic interests, and also the institution of a consultative conference which would meet at least once in three years and survey the world situation.

TRUST CONTROL
Further indication of the tendency to concentrate the permanent study of economic problems more completely in the League of Nations was furnished by the recommendation of the British Trade Union Congress that the League collect information on international trusts and rings, with a view to safeguarding the interests of consumers and producers and making representations to the governments when frictions arise.

Conversely, governments should have the right to appeal to the League when they consider themselves unfairly treated by international trade organizations, and memoranda should be sent to the League when they are controlled in the interest of all peoples, stable peace will be possible in the world.

Jury Will View Chaplin Film in Plagiarism Suit

NEW YORK, May 5. (AP)—The jury hearing the $50,000 plagiarism suit brought against Charlie Chaplin, motion-picture comedian, by Leo Loeb, today became dramatic critics, being called upon to compare the working synopsis of Chaplin's war picture, "Shoulder Arms," with Loeb's story of "The Rookie."

Loeb claimed Chaplin's film success was stolen from "The Rookie," which Loeb said he wrote in 1918, when he was in the marine corps and submitted to the Chaplin studio.

A letter was introduced, signed by Chaplin's scenario editor, rejecting the scenario and explaining to Loeb that Chaplin did not care at that time to burlesque the activities of Uncle Sam's armed forces.

While examination was going on mechanics prepared apparatus to present the film "Shoulder Arms" to the jury.

Evidence Found of Prehistoric Mine Disaster

PHOENIX (Ariz.), May 5. (AP)—Evidence of what is thought to have been one of Arizona's first mine disasters have been found in the workings of the Sodium Sulphate Products Company's mine at Camp Verde, with the discovery of skeletons and a number of stone hammers.

The discovery, according to Dr. Byron Cummings, acting president of the University of Arizona, is unique and amazing from the viewpoint of the archeologists. Dr. Cummings, who is professor of archeology at the university, estimates the relics and skeleton to be at least 1,000 years old.

They were found firmly imbedded in solid blocks of sodium sulphate. No evidence of ancient tunnels or drifts can be found in the mine, but it is supposed that the miner, seeking salt, was the victim of a cave-in.

General Ibanez Likely as Next Chile President

SANTIAGO (Chile), May 5. (AP)—Gen. Carlos Ibanez, who as Premier and Minister of Interior and recently as Vice-President, has guided the destinies of the nation the last three months, stood out today as the likely successor of President Emiliano Figueroa-Larain, whose resignation is in the hands of the Senate.

The President tendered his resignation with the explanation that the state of his health would not permit of continuance of his duties as Chief Executive. Congressional approval must be given to the resignation, and this probably will be granted tomorrow when Congress meets in extraordinary session.

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS IN CONVENTION

Cowboy Pastor of Texas Selected as President; Economy Warning Given

LOUISVILLE (Ky.), May 5. (Exclusively)—Rev. George W. Trott of Dallas, Tex., known to his colleagues as "the cowboy pastor," was elected president of the Southern Baptist convention to succeed Rev. George McDaniel of Richmond, Va., in a four-day assembly here.

More than 4,000 delegates are in attendance. Former Congressman W. D. Upshaw of Atlanta, Ga., was president of the two-day session elected. The others were Rev. L. E. Barstow, Andalusia, Ala.; Rev. R. C. Bates, Asheville, N.C.; and Rev. John D. McEl, Athens, Ga.

The two-day session of the convention was re-elected. They are E. C. Moore, Nashville, Tenn.; J. Henry Burnett, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; George W. Norton, Jr., of Louisville was re-elected. The convention was called a "grave financial problem" by Dr. McDaniel, in his address during the morning session and found themselves in a maze of amendments and suggestions following the report of the business officers committee in the afternoon.

With Dr. McDaniel's admonition that strict economy, adherence to the budget and co-operation were the only hopes to avoid bankruptcy the convention analyzed the report offered by Rev. Dr. Austin Crouch of Murfreesboro, Tenn., and there immediately started remedies for the present convention debt of $6,261,756 and for the control of $53,777,339 assets of the organization.

Card Clubs of Hungary Taboo to Women Now

BUDAPEST (Hungary), May 5. (AP)—Until women can play bridge without losing their temper, they've got to stay out of Budapest card clubs, declared the Minister of the Interior in a decree. The decree was prompted by a more or less free-for-all fight in which the wife of a State official and an actress pulled hair and exchanged blows over an error in the reckoning of a bridge score.

Women, the Minister asserted, are more jealous gamblers than men, and are less able to restrain their fighting instincts when vexed over a card game. He aims eventually to stamp out all the clubs in Budapest, and there are many hundreds of them, in which gambling is the main object. Reasonable games with reasonable stakes will not be tolerated, he declared, but rousing gambling will be rigorously prevented.

Meanwhile women are definitely prohibited from entering card clubs of any sort.

Butler Quotes Lincoln in Rap at Liquor Law

BALTIMORE, May 5. (AP)—A question asked by Abraham Lincoln two generations ago—"are all the laws but one to be unexecuted and the government itself go to pieces when that one is violated?"—was repeated by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, in an address before the Southern Maryland Society here tonight.

"The shameful and shocking record made by Federal officials in enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment," Dr. Butler said, "gives us the answer to Lincoln's piercing question."

Citing instances of "abhorrent" abuse of power by prohibition agents, the educator said, "the list of crimes, outrages and horrors that have been and are committed in the name of law enforcement could be indefinitely extended. The political party that dares to declare for law enforcement now must thereby stand sponsor for the Revolution."

COOLIDGE PLANS TOPIC OF NATION

Butler Finds Question of Candidacy Urgent

Reports to President After Tour of Country

Party Chairman Refuses to Discuss Issues

WASHINGTON, May 5. (Exclusively)—Widepread interest in the question of whether President Coolidge again will be a candidate in 1928 was reported by William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, on his return to Washington today after a political tour, which took him to the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Butler, in his report to the President, which he made both at a luncheon call and during a protracted conference in the evening, said that the West apparently is well satisfied with Republican policies and the present administration. He reported the Republican organization throughout the country in good shape and business conditions good.

According to Mr. Butler, the country apparently is prosperous and business prospects excellent. During his tour he discussed conditions with Republican national committees, State chairmen and county chairmen. He visited Chicago, Seattle, Portland, Oreg., Detroit, Spokane, Salt Lake City, Portland, Minn., and Minneapolis.

CAN'T COUNT THEM

"Could you tell us how many times you were asked the question as to whether President Coolidge will be a candidate?" Mr. Butler was asked when he emerged from the White House.

"Too many times to count," Mr. Butler answered with a broad grin. "What do you think about the President's intentions?" was the next question.

"That's a subject I cannot discuss," the chairman said. "I cannot discuss either issues or candidates at this time. I told all those I met during my trip that I was making the trip merely for organization purposes and would not discuss issues."

"I made this trip," Mr. Butler continued, "for the purpose of giving out the condition of the Republican organization in the various States. I found conditions good."

PLANS NEW TOUR

"What did you find the people talking about?" Mr. Butler was asked.

"Republican politics," answered Mr. Butler.

Mr. Butler said that he intends to tour every State in the country.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5. (AP)—After 4 years' efforts P. A. Meyer got his dime.

He put 10 cents too much in the fare box of a Market-street Railway car and asked for a refund. The conductor took his name and address. The company mailed him two tickets to cover the sum. That was four years ago.

Meyer had moved. The tickets moved after him, all over the country, catching him recently in Honolulu. The company received a letter from him at a Manila address. The tickets he sent back had expired. Meyer asked for new ones. They were sent his son here yesterday, thereby closing the account.

LEAGUE UNABLE TO PICK PALACE PLAN

GENEVA, May 5. (AP)—Although allotting nine first prizes, the League of Nations jury of architects, which has been studying plans submitted for a new League palace, today divided that it was unable to recommend execution of any one of the 377 plans.

The first prizes of 12,000 Swiss francs each (about $400) were awarded to four French, two Italian, two German and one Swedish architect.

Eighteen honorable mentions were made with the distribution of smaller prizes.

Have You $975 to Start a Poultry Farm?

IF YOU HAVE a family and $975 in your savings account; if you came to us proposing to buy acreage, move onto the land, build a home and raise eggs and fruit for a living, we would say to you:

"Don't Do It, You Won't Make the Grade"

You haven't capital enough. Stick to your business or job a while longer. Wait and save. Buy a piece of land now, while it's cheap. Pay for it as you earn, but don't bite off more than you can chew.

That's the Fontana policy. We won't take you unless you have the qualifications necessary for success. If you have them and join our community, we will do everything humanly possible to help you succeed.

That policy has brought over 1100 resident families to Fontana, made this community the leading poultry center of Southern California, caused it to grow faster than any other suburban district in the State.

Expert Guidance

Your family can't live on the interest earned by a few thousand dollars. At Fontana you can under expert guidance put a comparatively small capital to work, put your brains and effort behind it and make the combination produce a comfortable living in nearly ideal surroundings.

$500 an Acre

And, buying at rockbottom prices, you can watch your investment grow constantly in value. Nowhere else in Southern California will you be able to buy good land with ample, cheap water, on all the main lines of transportation and growth, fully developed with every city convenience, with 5000 neighbors organized for production, at a basic price of only $500 an acre. Try it. Look around, compare—and you will inevitably choose Fontana.

600 Poultry Plants

We are proud of Fontana, proud of the living conditions and income opportunities it offers the right families. Come and see the community of garden homes; see some of the 600 thriving poultry plants, the record-breaking hens that have made the Fontana strain of White Leghorns famous.

See for Yourself

See the charming Spanish business center with its wide lawns and riotous flower beds; learn about the staff of six community instructors, about the easy terms, the financial aid extended to qualified settlers. ## DEBT SQUABBLE TO BE IGNORED

Washington Stands Pat on Kellogg's Curt Reply

Governments Willing to Let Public Opinion Judge

British Press Highly Wroth Over Interchange

WASHINGTON, May 5. (P)—The latest controversy over foreign debt settlements, raised by the British note to the American government, promises to be short-lived so far as Washington officials are concerned.
Having received the British request for a statement as a result of Secretary Mellon's letter to President Hibben of Princeton University regarding the British war debt, and having answered it with a statement that the subject was not one for diplomatic exchange, the State Department apparently considers the incident closed.

At the Treasury, where Secretary Mellon issued a statement simultaneously with the publication of the British communication, defending his previously announced position, there is no inclination to enlarge upon the question at issue.

Officials in all branches of the government apparently were willing to leave unchallenged the statement today by Winston Churchill, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, that public opinion will be the final judge of the various conflicting views of the war debt settlements.

KELLOGG STANDS PAT

In expressing a disinclination to make of the Mellon-Hibben exchange a matter of diplomatic correspondence, the State Department remarked that it is a domestic question, and on this Secretary Kellogg stood today. Mr. Mellon's analysis of his letter to President Hibben and the statement that the British note overemphasized an obvious typographical error in that letter, was allowed to stand as the Treasury's view.

This paragraph in the Mellon letter said that "all our principal debtors already are receiving from Germany more than enough to pay their debts to the United States," Mr. Mel-

CRIPPLE LIVES IN BATHTUB

Modern Diogenes Enjoys Porcelain Bungalow But no Running Water

PARIS, May 5. (Exclusive)— A modern Diogenes has been discovered near Chateaufort in the person of Valentin Le Page, who has gone the Greek sage and by installing himself in a bathtub.

Disabled in a factory accident three years ago and unable to do more than sit in a living rooming chair, M. Le Page has lived economically ever since in a battered bathtub roofed with boards beside the highway, with a police dog occupying a sugar box annex.
The porcelain bungalow, however, lacks running water.

lon said the words "except Great Britain" were inadvertently omitted.
If officialdom is concerned, the British note unusually frank in structure, or that the American Secretary of Finance, Mr. Kellogg, had been curtious, they would not say so.
There were indications, however, that the note came as a surprise to some of them at least. The debt question has been more or less dominant in recent months. So far as domestic arguments are concerned, there has been exhibited an inclination in official circles to avoid bringing it to the fore, on the theory that its discussion could be of no economic benefit at this time.

DEBT NOTE EXCHANGE

STIRS UP BRITISH PAPERS

LONDON, May 5. (P)—The Anglo-American war debt controversy, which flared up with Great Britain's surprise note to the United States and Secretary Kellogg's brief answer has reached a high pitch of acrimony in the British press.

Shorn of technical language, the British government stands on "the substantive" of the controversy. Whether other official rejoinders will be forthcoming from Downing street depends on the Treasury officials, who are studying Mr. Mellon's statements.

Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, at a recent speech today said "We have placed our view on these transactions upon account and I am quite sure that there is no other step that is within our power to take."

Downing street officials back the Chancellor's view, but they regret that Great Britain has again been drawn into a controversy.

PRESS INDIGNANT

The British newspapers in streaming headlines and terse outpoken editorials employ more of a tone of indignation at the American attitude on the war debt, rather than of regret that the question is again disturbing Anglo-American relations.
British officials agree that the Mellon-Hibben controversy started as a domestic affair and that Great Britain would have been willing to allow the American college groups championing the case before the American public, but when Mr. Mellon's letter received widespread publication throughout Europe and threatened seriously to disturb Great Britain's prospects of recovering on her continental war debts, the officials declare, there was nothing left but to restate the British government's view of the whole question as definitely and formally as possible.

To illustrate Great Britain's position, in entering a domestic controversy as between Secretary Mellon and President Hibben, one official remarked tonight: "A man may call his brother a fool and the matter is a purely domestic affair, but when such charge is written formally and given widespread publication it seems in-justifiable for the brother to state his views on the matter which certainly is no longer domestic."

MEXICO CITY, May 5. (Exclusive)
The Secretariat of the Interior today issued a statement denying that the central government has recognized or of the State of Chihuahua. Mac-arena was appointed Governor several weeks ago following the unseat-ing of Col. Jesus Antonio Almeida, who fled to the United States. The statement says recognition of Mac-department officials today with having saved thirty occupants of a Hayes-street apartment-house from injury or burns when a $25,000 fire swept through the building. Those named rushed through the structure, notifying occupants and warning

NEW MEN PUT ON FARM BOARD

War Finance Corporation Members Named

Reorganization of Loan Body Plan of Coolidge

President and Mellon Have Been Dissatisfied

WASHINGTON, May 5. (P)—Eugene Meyer and his colleagues of the War Finance Corporation, were named today by President Coolidge as members of the Federal Farm Loan Board in a reorganization of that agency.
Mr. Coolidge named George R.
Cocksey and Floyd R. Harrison, who are also members of the War Finance Corporation, to serve on the board with Meyer, appointed earlier in the day.

The resignations of Robert A. Cooper and Edward Jones as members of the board were accepted by the President and the third vacancy resulted from the recent resignation of Elmer Landis.

It is understood Mr. Meyer will serve as executive chief of the farm board. He has been chairman of the War Finance Corporation, which is now in process of liquidation.

The move consolidates the War Finance Corporation and the Farm Loan Board, particularly in relation to the differences which have existed between the board and certain administration officials.

Secretary Mellon has the title of chairman of both organizations, although the direction of business is left largely to the executive chief of each. He has been dissatisfied with the administration of the Farm Loan Board, particularly in relation to its control over financial affairs.

Likewise, Mr. Coolidge has felt for some time that the board through different management could extend greater relief to farmers, especially in relation to an expansion of credit facilities through the intermediate credit banks.

Union Attacks

PEALUMA, May 5. (P)—Four deputy sheriffs were on guard at the Central Poultry Producers' Association plant here today to prevent further outbreaks in the "chicken pickers" war.

The latest trouble occurred last night when Morris Graf, nonunion chicken picker, was beaten by several men because he would not join the only chicken pickers' union in the country.

J. C. Conaway and Albert Wilson were arrested as members of the attacking crowd. Conaway pleaded guilty and paid a $25 fine. Wilson asked for a trial.

WIFE TO AID MATE IN LAW

NEW YORK, May 5. (P)—Her three children having grown up, Mrs. Ros-lind S. London feels she needs some main interest in life, so she has gone four years to law school, and is to become her husband's partner in practice.

MacMillan and Putnam to Go North, While Byrd Plans Flight Over South Pole

SIX POLAR TRIPS AFOOT

NEW YORK, May 5. (P)—Although three expeditions have reached the North Pole and one the South, the push into the polar regions this year is greater than ever. At least six parties will have explored the icy wastes at the ends of the world before fall. The Wilkins expedition has gone and the MacMillan and Putnam expeditions will go north from America, the Russians and Germans will make dirigible flights over the pole from Europe and Lieutenant-Commander Richard E. Byrd expects to reach the South Pole by plane after his jump across the Atlantic.

A black and white illustration of a person lying in bed, looking towards a window. A bedside table with a lamp and a glass is visible in the foreground. The style is a high-contrast, woodcut-like print. The person is lying on their side, facing right, with their head resting on a pillow. They are looking out of a window with vertical bars or panes. In the foreground, a small bedside table holds a lamp with a glass chimney and a small bottle. The bed is covered with a patterned blanket. The overall mood is contemplative or somber.

That evening, when he and I had our last time together on the road, he seemed so worn and tired he begged him to come home with me for dinner. He said he'd have to skip the hospital first. Accordingly, I waited at the Danbury station until he stepped into the telephone booth. He came out of it a moment later with tragedy on his face.

FARM CONTROL
OF GRAIN URGEDWorld Wheat Pool Meeting Offers SolutionPrice Stabilization Declared Co-operatives' AimRussian Delegates Promise to Fall Into LineKANSAS CITY, May 5. (P)—Direct farmer control of world grain markets through co-operative selling organizations with resultant curtailment of speculation, was advocatedby C. M. Burnell, president of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, at the opening session of the second international wheat pool conference here today.Substitution of international cooperation for international competition in agriculture could be obtained, in the opinion of Burnell, chairman of the conference, with a system similar to that used for three years by Canadian growers."Governments can help agriculture, but in the last analysis the farmer must attend to his own business," he declared. "The farmer should be too good a business man and too proud a citizen to ask others to help him when he has an excellent opportunity to help himself."PRICE STABILIZED He explained that Canadian farmers had a big influence on wheat prices because the Dominion produces about 40 per cent of the world's ex-portable surplus. Three years' experience in the Canadian pool indicated, he said, that the price of wheat can be stabilized at a level which will be profitable to the producer.Burnell quoted figures to show that any gain in the price of wheat made by a farmers' agency does not necessarily advance the cost of bread to consumers. He found that in 1925, when wheat prices fluctuated 8 1/2 cents a bushel, the wholesaleHAT-TAX PLANS ALARM WOMENSex in England Wrathful Over Member of Parliament's Revenue ProjectLONDON, May 5. (P)—English women have learned with alarm that Col. R. V. K. Ap-pin, Conservative member of Parliament from Enfield, proposes to place an ad valorem tax on their hats.Col. Applin was married in 1902. He is the author of "Machine Gun Tactics" and has had a career as a soldier.Lady Bland-Burton, wife of a noted surgeon, thinks expensive hats should be taxed because "they are not necessary." But Thomas Kenna, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Luton, center of England's hat-making industry, described the proposed tax as a "tax on taste.""If it is made a law," he said, "women will have to buy fewer and cheaper hats."***** price of bread in Winnipeg was unchanged.This, he declared, showed that the pools were no monopolies, but had a gain for all concerned, including the consumer, in that they do away with speculation.DUMPING PREVENTED In tracing the spread of the cooperative system from Canada to Russia, Australia and the United States, Burnell pointed out that pool members do not have to "dump" grain on the market in the fall to meet expenses. The growers receive a payment on their grain and are paid in full when the sale is completed by the pool. This, he found, enables farmers to avoid price dumps caused by speculators taking advantage of forced deliveries to drop prices.Saul G. Bron of Moscow, head of a delegation of seven Russians, said that growers of his country are displaying a keen interest in establishing contacts with other world wheat pools.All the principal wheat-producing Canadian provinces and marketing agencies, as well as American grain centers, are represented. The conference will continue for three days.RUSSIA TO JOIN The representatives of the cooperative wheat growers of Soviet Russia pledged themselves to the aim of international co-operation.Saul G. Bron of Moscow, head of the Russian delegation, delivered to the conference the message that it was not the intention of the Russian co-operators to "fixure prices.""Russia will sell at the world price and take her chances with the others," he said. "It will work out."Mr. Bron estimated the Russia would be exporting 100,000,000 bushels of wheat in the next two years.
Asked if this might not adversely affect the export of American wheat and possibly drive down prices, he replied:"Perhaps so, but remember that domestic consumption is increasing, both in Russia and other countries."Secretary of Agriculture Jardine brought to the conference, which is being attended by representatives of wheat pools in the United States, Canada, Russia and Australia, a pledge of assistance of the United States Department of Agriculture for the wheat-pool movement.Tractor Plows Field Without Guiding HandLINCOLN (Neb.) May 5. (P)—A manless tractor, controlled by an electric device, plowed a field successfully yesterday before a crowd of farmers, professors of agriculture and business men.Unaided by a human hand, except when the tractor was plowed to make a guide row, the machine, equipped with an automatic guide invented by F. L. Zibach of Grand Island, Neb., plowed a twenty-acre field.The tractor runs in an irregular circle, rounding the corners. Except for replenishing the gasoline and oil, it needs no attention. The electric control stops the machine should it leave the furrow, and when the work is completed.The invention was first tried in 1921, Zibach said.FRIES SAYS AMERICA world in development of its chemical as well as for warfare and is recognized as the leader by all foreign nations," Maj.-Gen. Amos A. Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service, United States Army, asserted last night at a dinner in his honor."The United States is reasonably prepared in this respect and with our enormous manufacturing facilities and supplies of raw materials and an intelligent popular support we are reasonably safe from attack."Gen. Fries asserted that many millions of dollars are being saved by discoveries and developments of the chemical warfare service. The Navy alone, he said, is saved $30,000,000 by chemical treatment of piles for docks and similar purposes, while many more millions are saved through chemical paint treatment of ship bottoms by means of which barnacles are destroyed.LEGIONNAIRES' WIVES at Annual ElectionWASHINGTON, May 5. (P)—After a brief flurry over farm relief, which terminated with the organization supporting its resolutions committee recommendation for delay in advocating a national agricultural policy, the United States Chamber of Commerce today brought its annual convention to a close.Lewis E. Pearson, New York banker, was elected president and Edwin B. Parker of Houston, Tex., umpire of the Chamber-American Mixed Claims Commission, was selected to fill the newly created post of chairman of the board of directors.STRONG POLICY URGED The resolutions committee farm report was opposed by C. W. Ewing of Decatur, Ill., who counseled against delay to permit the chamber's agricultural committee to submit its findings and urged instead that the delegates commit themselves to a farm relief policy as strong as that affecting labor and industry. He declared it is time for organized business to give strong assistance to the agriculturalists.What he termed the duty of business to help stabilize agriculture was stressed by Dwight B. Heard, Phoenix (Ariz.) publisher, who spoke for the farm group of the chamber.He said the farms were supporting 20,000,000 persons and that the country had not yet recovered from the agricultural inflation that followed the World War. He counseled against restricted production as a remedy for present conditions and urged organized industry to assist any sound plan for stability even though industrial profits might temporarily be curtailed.Henry D. Sharpe of Providence, R.

I., speaking for the foreign affairs group, declared what he described as a disposition in some quarters to urge the government to protect every foreign governmental action affecting American trade and at the same time ignore similar complaints from abroad.The day in which the words "capitalist" and "capitalism" are looked at askance is passing because the persone are giving "the average man" the opportunity, and even the duty of becoming a capitalist. Felix M. Mc-Whirter, Indianapolis banker, declared in an address.As new penalties are being imposed upon the inefficient, he said, so are new premiums being extended to those who pursue improved practices.Four vice-presidents were elected as follows: Eastern division, A. J. Bro-seus, New York City; southern division, Robert R. Ellis, Memphis, Tenn.; north central division, William Butterworth, Moline, Ill.; western divi-the collapse of a fifty-foot section of

BROTHER HELD IN HICKS DEATH

St. Louis Murder Solution Believed Imminent

Accusation by Detective Chief Follows Questioning

Two Others, One ex-Convict, Also in Custody

ST. LOUIS, May 5. (AP)—With the arrest of Glenn T. Hicks, brother and chief beneficiary of the estate and much of the $354,000 life insurance carried by Clifford M. Hicks, 38 years of age, slain last partner of former Gov. Major, Detective Chief Kaiser announced tonight he believed the solution of the murder was imminent. Besides Hicks, the police arrested Harry W. Bostelman, 31, and William Davis, 30, an ex-convict. The three are held without bond.

Hicks, charged tenaciously to his denial of any connection with the slaying of his brother, a former minister, whose body, pierced by six bullets, was found near here Sunday morning. Hours of questioning resulted in an open accusation by Chief Kaiser that Hicks had instigated the murder if he did not actually carry it out.

ADMISSIONS ASSERTED
Hicks admitted, Chief Kaiser said, that he and another man had gone to his dead brother's office an hour before the attorney's body was found, taking from it several papers. He further admitted, Kaiser said, telephoning his slain brother's stenographer about 7 o'clock Sunday morning, two hours before the body was found, and telling her that her employer was murdered.

WOMAN QUESTIONED
The secretary of the slain man, Miss Ida Stanswell, 34-year-old woman, was questioned also and she verified Hicks' account of calling her by phone Sunday morning and asking her to come to the dead attorney's office.

CONFRONTED CENTERED ON Glenn Hicks yesterday, Kaiser said, after he produced a will left by the murdered man in which he named Glenn as the chief beneficiary. Hicks' wife and mother each were given $1. Further investigation disclosed that a large share of the lawyer's $354,000 insurance had been assigned to Glenn and that Glenn two weeks ago had insured his brother to assign more insurance to him.

Davis, it is charged by Kaiser, was involved in a stolen-bond deal with the dead lawyer.

CONFRONTED WITH several papers found by detective in his home, Hicks was said by Kaiser to have admitted taking them from his dead brother's office Sunday morning.

KIDNAP SUSPECT SLAIN BY POLICE

Believed to be Captor of Rich New Yorker

Letters Demand Ransom of $400,000

Pal Captured in Battle
Wanted as Robber

NEW YORK, May 5. (Exclusive)—Opening of a reputed nation-wide kidnaping ring suspected of holding for ransom a wealthy New Yorker broke who has been missing for a week came to light late today following a desperate gun battle between police and detectives and two of the suspected kidnapers on the western fringe of Central Park.

One of the latter was killed and the other captured. They had been tried for several days. The police identified the slain gunman as Joseph Marcus, 31 years of age, of New York, alias Joseph Simon, wanted in Montreal for murder. The prisoner was identified as David Burman, 30, of Sioux City, alias, "Dave the Jew," wanted in Superior, Wis., for a post-office robbery.

THE WEALTHY New Yorker believed held prisoner by the ring is Abraham Scharin, promoter and broker, 32, West Seventy-second street. He is 40 years of age and a widower who came here a few years ago from Chicago. His kidnapers demand $400,000 ransom.

SLAIN CARD DIVIDED
Half of Scharin's Elks membership card was found on the body of Marcus. The other half had been sent in a letter to Scharin's brother, Mr. Nathan, in which the $400,000 was demanded.

It was several days ago that Nathan Scharin received the first letter asking for the $400,000 and informing him that Abraham was being held hostage. The letter was written in the hand of the missing man. Enclosed was half of his Elks card, apparently to convince his brother, who is also a wealthy promoter. There followed another letter and then numerous untraceable telephone calls. Always the supposed details of Scharin managed to evade detection, but last night, in an underworld haunt which the police refuse to name, the two detectives, attired in shabby clothes and feigning unconcern, overheard a conversation in which "that Elks card" was mentioned. From that time on the two men, participating in the overheard conversation were continuously trailed by the detectives.

DETECTIVE Cordes kept after the men continuously today. Finally they sat on a bench in Central Park, near West Sixty-sixth street. After a time, they started to leave the park. By their demeanor, Cordes guessed they had no special destination. They walked aimlessly about but finally crossed over from Central Park, west to West Sixty-sixth street. Just then they spotted Cordes heading for them and seemingly recognized him as a detective. Burman whipped out a revolver and at close range fired, but the shot went wide.

BULLET ENDS FLIGHT
Marcus took to his heels, but as he fled drew a revolver and fired at Cordes. Motorcycle Patrolman Richard O'Connor appeared on the scene as this juncture and brought down the fleeing Marcus with one well-aimed shot. Burman then surrendered.

BURMAN was questioned at length by Police Inspector John D. Coughlin. Inspector John J. Stapleton, first aide to Inspector Coughlin, produced a Department of Justice circular which showed the prisoner was wanted for a postoffice robbery in Superior, Wis. A reward of $6000 was offered for his arrest. Late tonight he was still being grilled but stoutly maintained he knew nothing of Scharin's whereabouts or the ransom demand.

Police learned, however, that James H. Taylor of Brooklyn, intimate friend of the kidnaped man, also has been missing. He disappeared at the same time as Scharin with whom it is believed he was to have had dinner the night of April 28.

On the body of the dead gunman police found five checks, each for $500, signed by Taylor, who also is known as Jeff Taylor.

PARIS, May 5. (AP)—A reduction in the French force of occupation in the Rhineland is likely to be made soon, it was indicated in Paris diplomatic circles today.

The French government is expecting a request for a reduction from Berlin any day, and it is understood to be ready to comply in consideration of compensation in the way of further guarantees concerning the security of the frontiers of France and her allies.

OIL MAN KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

ARTHEA (N. M.) May 5. (AP)—William McGinn, secretary of the New Mexico Oil Men's Association, and former Cincinnati newspaper man, was instantly killed, and Sterling Beardsley, New York broker, slightly injured tonight when a car driven by McGinn was wrecked on the Carlsbad-Artesia road.

OIL INDUSTRY THOUGHTFUL

Co-operation to Regulate Production Seriously Planned; Fear of Trust Laws Restrains Action

BY EARLE E. CROWE

More serious thought has been given to co-operation in the last month by the leaders in the oil industry. Several of the outstanding figures have preached co-operation in the regulation of production for some time, but the rank and file are only beginning to listen since the penalty for uncooperative operations has become too severe to bear without writhing about in acute discomfort.

Now in a more tractable state of mind the industry is noticeably leaning toward some agreement or plan that will eliminate particularly the vicious competition in the drilling of oil pools. There is too much oil above ground and there is too much drilling going forward without regard to the demand. It is plain that the days of easy and spectacular profits are over, and independent action must give way to organized effort on a large scale if a narrower margin of profits is to obtain.

GILMORE REPORTS NET LOSS

Operations in 1926 Result in Deficit of $302,353; Assets Increased

After the payment of all charges, including Federal taxes and provision for depreciation and depletion, a net loss of $302,353 was reported by the Gilmore Oil Company for the year ended December 31, last, according to the company's annual statement just issued. This compares with a net loss of $117,622 after similar charges in 1925 and a loss of $33,148 in 1924.

Write-off for depreciation and depletion in the year 1926 amounted to $222,278, as against a charge of $237,038 in the preceding year. Total depreciation and depletion reserves at the close of 1926 aggregated $619,128. Capital surplus is $1,010,310, an increase of $94,861 during the year. Cash and accounts payable amounted to $734,160, with $261,646 due to affiliated companies.

The Gilmore Oil Company, manufacturer and distributor of crude oil and refined oil products, owns 107 acres of undeveloped and 120 acres of proven ground not yet developed. It owns two refineries in Los Angeles with a capacity of 6000 barrels daily. Production for 1926 aggregated approximately 120,000 barrels.

MERGERS A CORRECTIVE

All the oil companies propose to co-operate to regulate as far as they can the relationship between supply and demand. It is done in other industries, but for some reason or other the oil industry is always hanging over the oil people, or at least they think so. Unless the companies can get together and drill pools under the unit plan or control in some way the flow of oil from the ground the cheap price will work a severe hardship on all the producing companies. Of course the oil companies will soon check town-out drilling, but in the meantime the large companies are looking for ways to control again town-out drilling may appear as soon as prices advance.

Actual mergers of existing companies is probably the best solution of the trouble. Here, again, however, the industry runs into the stumbling block of the antitrust laws. The activities of the Federal Trade Commission. The regrouping of the numerous companies in California into three large and powerful organizations would unquestionably prove the best solution of the problem. The fear of legal obstacles is an effective deterrent to serious conversations along this line.

Most oil men agree that in the end the stabilization of this hazardous and uncertain industry will come through either large-scale combination or actual physical mergers of broad dimensions. What it is to be and when it is to come is a problem for the oilies to answer.

Resources of Building Loan in Year Grow

Growth from the twenty-ninth to the ninth biggest building and loan association in Los Angeles since its organization 11 years ago is revealed in the financial statement of the Investment Building and Loan Association issued yesterday. The statement shows resources for April 30, last, of $1,231,023.62, a monthly average growth of $81,474.27.

"So far as we can ascertain our growth has been the most rapid on record in the United States," R. F. Ingold, executive vice-president, said yesterday. "Most of this growth is due to the increased sale of building and loan certificates. As a result of local and national advertising, sales have been in all sections of the country, as far east as New York and as far west as Honolulu. Since the company started in May 1926, more than $850,000 in certificates has been purchased by investors."

"Building and loan association certificate holders have been greatly benefited by the readjustment of the rate of taxation on foreign securities."

MAY REINSTATE STOCK

Return of Piggly Wiggly Issue to Trading List Planned

NEW YORK, May 5. (Exclusive)—Negotiations looking toward restoration to the stock exchange in the autumn of shares of the Piggly Wiggly Corporation, stricken from the list after the hectic 1923 corner, were reported today to have opened in banking circles.

R. E. Maury, president, representing new interests which acquired control of the company from Clarence Saunders, founder after his latter's disastrous encounter with the bears of Wall Street, indicated an effort would be made in a short-time to get back in the good graces of the exchange authorities. He pointed to the company's rehabilitation as evidence of conservative management. Favorable action would constitute a precedent, as the exchange authorities have never refused a stock, once it was stricken, and the policy of the governing body has always been a conservative one.

PRICE INDEX DIP CONTINUES

Fractional Drop in April Regarded Only as Indicating Severity of Slump Has Been Diminished

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

NEW YORK, May 5. (Exclusive)—The gentle fall of commodity prices continued last month according to both the Bradstreet and Dun compilations just published. Only a fractional decline in the general price level for May 1 is revealed by a comparison of the position on April 1. Some economists now go so far as to predict that the long downward swing in commodity values may be nearing its end, but about all that can be concluded from the movement to date is that the severity of the recession has been diminished. When converted to make 1913 equal 100, the Bradstreet index for May 1 reveals the current level as 155. Roughly that means prices now are 55 per cent above their prewar levels.

In some respects the Bradstreet-future price structure. The downward movement in this country over the last two years represents a part of the general movement of raw materials. The decline in finished goods has not been so marked as that in raw materials, and if this index were weighted heavily with finished goods, it would not now be so near the 1913 level. Its significance lies, therefore, not in what it shows of the general average of prices, but in what it reveals of the probable future trend. At 135 the Bradstreet publication is 13.7 per cent under the seat which was acquired in 1908, when prices ranged between $14,000 and $50,000.

NEW YORK, May 5. (P)—The day's stock market was a score more up for the year in the general price level for May 1 is revealed by a comparison of the position on April 1. ton in basic pig iron prices. On the other hand, showed rather substantial gains on rumors of another increase in crude oil production.

Support for the rail shares flattened out somewhat late in the session. Baltimore and Ohio common, Southern Railway preferred and Consolidated Railways of Cuba preferred advanced new 1927 tops, whereas New Haven, Missouri Pacific common, Chicago Great Western preferred and several others sold down a point or more. Chicago and Eastern Illinois common broke 4 points.

Heavy buying took place in several of the automotive shares. General Motors duplicated its record high of 148 and then sold down to 147.5 for a small fractional loss. Mack Trucks and Hudson Motors reached new maximums for the year at 116 and 79 1/4, respectively. For the third successive day General Motors registered a new top, touching 147 1/2 on buying influenced by reports of record-breaking current earnings.

United States Steel common lagged behind the rest of the list at the start, but gathered strength as the session progressed, ending 3 1/2 points higher at 107 1/2, or 4 1/4 points below the recent record price. Among many public utilities and specialties to break through to new high levels were Brooklyn Union Gas, Brooklyn Edison, Detroit Edison, Los Angeles Gas, General Electric, B. M. Mac, American Tobacco, National Biscuit, Colorado Fuel, International Business Machines, International Paper, Eastman Kodak, and others.

A break rally in wheat prices, based on the better export demand and stimulated by heavy covering in near month deliveries, was the outstanding feature in today's commodity markets. The advance in cotton prices was checked, final quotations ruling 12 to 17 points net lower. Coffee and sugar prices held fairly steady.

Demand sterling eased back to around 94.85 1/2, but other foreign exchange held fairly steady. French franc ruled around 9.91 3/4 and Italian lire were again close to the 9 1/4-cent level.

Aviators' Association Denounces Daugherty Killing as Outrage

SMUGGLING OF CHINESE DENIED

Immigration Officers Scored in Resolution

Local Chapter Investigates Eagle Airport Case

Attorney for Ring Suspects Makes Charges

A resolution sharply criticizing immigration officers for the shooting of Arthur Daugherty, killed at the Eagle airport last Saturday morning by government men seeking smugglers, was passed yesterday at a special meeting of the board of directors of the National Aeronautical Association, Southern California chapter.

The resolution, which was signed by Charles Harding Babbs, secretary of the association, "condemned the killing of Daugherty as an act of unprovoked violence and a gross violation of the rights of a citizen."

Daugherty met his death when he and B. E. Chaney, manager of the airport, landed at the airport early in the morning. Immigration officers declared they had information that the airport was being used by a ring of smugglers to bring Chinese into the country. They had placed two flyers under arrest before Daugherty landed and opened fire on his plane when they believed he and Chaney were attempting to take to the air again to escape apprehension, according to their statements.

THE RESOLUTION

The resolution passed by the chapter recites that the special meeting called yesterday was for the purpose of investigating the circumstances of Daugherty's death, the organization being "interested and concerned with the rights of airplane operators."

The following extract is quoted from the resolution:

"Whereas, this organization being interested primarily in the observance of law as it pertains to aeronautical operations, has conducted an independent investigation and as the result thereof hereby resolves:

- First: That the killing of Arthur Daugherty was unnecessary.
- Second: That flyers or travelers in the air should enjoy the same rights and immunities as American citizens on the ground or upon the highway upon the sea.
- Third: That we do all within our power individually and as an association to compel the observance of law as the same pertains particularly to aeronautics, and that this advocacy is condemned as the most reprehensible act which thus far has come to our attention.
- Fourth: That there was no evidence produced at the coroner's inquest, and our investigation reveals nothing to show Arthur Daugherty a party to any unlawful act.
- Fifth: That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by our secretary to the parents of Arthur Daugherty and to the press.

LAWYER COMPLAINS

While the aeronautical body was acting, Defense Attorney William C. King also took occasion to criticize federal authorities, stating that he had been unable to see his clients and despite frequent requests at the

FREED GIRL AGAIN ACCUSED

Once freed on a charge of burglary growing out of her asserted desire for a better furnished home, Marie A. Scott, 18 years of age, yesterday was held to answer to the Superior Court on the same charge by Municipal Judge Blake.

The girl first was jointly accused with her brother, George Scott, of robbing a house owned by William and Catherine Gerke at 1819 North Sycamore street. Appearing before Municipal Judge Bush for preliminary County Jail and elsewhere. His complaints were contained in an open letter, copies of which were sent to various federal officials.

The complaint, however, was asserted by government men to have no basis. United States Immigration Inspector Carr, in charge, declared that he personally had written a pass for King to see his clients in the County Jail. The attorney, it was learned, was able to confer with the imprisoned Flynn yesterday.

Despite the objections to some of their activities, the immigration officers here yesterday went ahead gathering evidence which they expect will result in indictments against Emmett Longbrake, Jack O'Brien and a number of other aviators associated with the Eagle Airport.

Daugherty met his death when he and B. E. Chaney, manager of the airport, landed at the airport early in the morning. Immigration officers declared they had information that the airport was being used by a ring of smugglers to bring Chinese into the country. They had placed two flyers under arrest before Daugherty landed and opened fire on his plane when they believed he and Chaney were attempting to take to the air again to escape apprehension, according to their statements.

Able Nonunion Players to be Had at Cost Lower Than "Card" Men

Competent nonunion musicians for dance, radio, theatrical and any sort of entertainment or other musical programs may be procured at Local 31, American Musicians' Union, 190 South Broadway, Southwest Building.

Smith has just organized the local of the American Musicians' Union of North America, which is not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and is, despite its name, an open-shop organization. The body, according to Smith, is the oldest musicians' organization in the United States and has headquarters in Chicago. It is a fraternal body rather than a union as that term is now used. Legal attacks against it by the regular musicians' union are history in the musical world.

STROKE KILLS WOMAN

Having been found near 5019 East First street in a state of coma, Mrs. Josephine Chittick, 55 years of age, died yesterday in the General Hospital. The woman was taken to the hospital by Deputy Constable Sigler. County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner performed an autopsy over the body and declared that the woman died of apoplexy. She had resided at 4240 Eugene street.

HOSPITAL GROUND BROKEN

Convalescing Children Look on as Work Starts on Annex Planned to Double Capacity

A new hope for sick and crippled children arose yesterday when more than 100 persons, many of them prominent, conducted a ceremony at Sunset Boulevard and Vermont avenue around the breaking of ground for two new buildings for the Children's Hospital.

Wide-eyed convalescing boys and girls looked on with delight as a big steam shovel snorted out steam and tore up great loads of earth. There was speaking, music and refreshments on the lawn at one side of the present structure on the corner.

Mrs. Albert Gruenker, president of the Children's Hospital Society, presided at the exercises. Oscar Lawler and Guernsey Newlin made the speeches. Rev. W. E. McCulloch opened the ceremony with prayer. In the assembly were representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and many interests whose members give largely of their time and money to keep going this work of mercy on behalf of little children—those of 12 years of age or under only being received in the institution.

The new additions will provide 100 more beds, almost doubling the capacity of the hospital, and will provide living quarters for 300 nurses. It has been going for more than a quarter of a century. About three-fourths of its support comes from the Community Chest. By far the greater part of the work conducted in the hospital is for charity cases.

Before leaving for the East via San Francisco, Sunday, he will speak at noon today at the Alexandria at a luncheon given by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

NEW YORK ATTORNEY SAYS PRIZE ALWAYS SAME

NEW YORK, May 5. (AP)—One and the same prize is always won at a price that Mrs. Lila Grey Chaplin always has set on the settlement of her divorce action against Charlie Chaplin. Nathan Burkan, the film comedian's New York attorney said tonight. "There are no prospects of a settlement on that basis or anything like it," Burkan added.

TWO OFFERS MADE IN SETTLEMENT EFFORT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5. (Exclusive)—Not one, but two offers to end the marital strife of Charlie Chaplin and his wife, Lila Grey Chaplin, were made through the latter's attorneys, according to information gleaned tonight when Gavin McNabb, of counsel for the comedian, admitted, refusing the terms of settlement.

The first offer, it was said, was for a fast settlement of $1,250,000. No reference was made to a division of community property, nor was anything said about providing for the child of the estranged couple, it was declared.

M'SHANE DEATH QUERY REVIVED

We reveal his plans for the coming investigation. It was learned that some time previously he had retained the services of F. W. Mohan, head of the private detective agency bearing his name, and that Mohan had done some work on the case. It is understood that the new investigation will include the calling of several new witnesses as well as those that testified at the previous hearing, and that the questioning of witnesses may take an entirely new trend.

chorus.Under the head of Junior high-school girls' glee clubs, groups from the Francis E. Willard Junior High School at Santa Ana and the Eagle Rock intermediate school will compete for honored place.The request of the attorneys for the two defendants Judge Burnell postponed the time for pleading until Monday when, in all probability, Miss Mackaye will face Kelly for the first time since his arrest. Attorneys Jerry Oelster and Roger Marchetti, representing Miss Mackaye, and Attorney Thomas P. White for Dr. Sullivan, indicated they will attack the validity of the new indictment by the filing of demurrers.According to the two prosecutors, the indictment could give testimony valuable to the prosecution of Kelly as they said, he had intimate knowledge of the visits paid to his employer's apartment by Miss Mackaye and her chum, Helen Wilkinson. These visits and Kelly's friendship for Miss Mackaye, as asserted by the prosecutors to have provoked Kelly's attack on Raymond, which they will contend caused his death.WAGNER TELLS OF NOTE Max Wagner, room-mate of Kelly, in his statement to Mr. Murray, declared that when he went to call
"Jungle" to the prosecutor's apartment, he found Kelly in a breakdown and that he was in a bad way.
Mr. Murray said he had been informed that "Jungle" was present at several "gin parties" in Kelly's apartment when Miss Mackaye was a guest, and that his testimony is of importance because of his position as servant. It was said that the missing Japanese had prepared and served some drinks admittedly served on occasions when Miss Mackaye and her chum were entertained by Kelly.Although the Japanese is said to have informed Kelly he was leaving for the Orient, Cohen has instructed his detectives to keep on searching for him in hopes that he will be located before the trial opens at the Judge Burnell. His testimony, together with that of other witnesses, is necessary, it was said, in showing a motive for what the prosecution will claim was a premeditated attack upon Raymond.The trial of Kelly will get under way at 2 p.m. next Monday instead of at 10 o'clock as first scheduled, it was announced by Judge Burnell yesterday. This change is due to his law and motion calendar in the morning.Preparations were being made for the handling of the crowds expected to be attracted to the trial.
When she appeared in court with her nurse yesterday Miss Mackaye was served with a subpoena to appear as a witness against Kelly. Kelly is charged with the murder of Kelly.
Dr. Sullivan was also given a summons by Investigator Chris.
Attorneys for Kelly have not yet decided whether they will allow them to go on the stand, because of the impending indictment against them, or to instruct them to stand on their constitutional rights and not testify.Miss Mackaye appeared in court yesterday. She declined to make any comment concerning her case and her attorneys asserted they had nothing to add to what has already been said except that they are certain the innocence of Dr. Sullivan and Miss Mackaye will be proven.The new indictment was returned to supplant the original bill which was faulty in setting forth the charges against the two defendants.
It jointly accuses them of being accomplices after the fact and with conspiring to keep the facts of Kelly's death from the authorities.W. I. Gilbert, who is to represent Kelly at the coming trial, yesterday declined to make any comment concerning the defense.
"I am not at liberty to discuss my plans at the present time," said Mr.
Gilbert. "It is necessary for me to remain silent until the time comes to present our case to the jury. Just say that we will have a 'not guilty' defense for Kelly."He said that he will be ready to proceed when the case is called and all words of the opinion yesterday that nothing would come up to block the starting of the proceedings.Others officers elected are Mrs. L. B.

State's witness in the case of Paul Kelly, Hollywood film actor, who is scheduled to go to trial Monday afternoon on an indictment accusing him of the murder of Ray Raymond, equatorial comedy actor, was reported by Dep. Dist. Atty. Murray and Kemp yesterday.The witness is a Japanese, who was house boy for Kelly and who is known to the authorities only as "Jungle." He disappeared on the Sunday morning following Kelly's last fight with Raymond, leaving a note saying that he was going back to Japan.District Attorney's detectives working a search for the Japanese since his disappearance and it was not unthat he was being hunted. The an-

Sullivan, his physician, before Superior Judge Burnell for arraignment on a new indictment.The request of the attorneys for the two defendants Judge Burnell
postponed the time for pleading until Monday when, in all probability,
Miss Mackaye will face Kelly for the first time since his arrest. Attorneys Jerry Oelster and Roger Marchetti,
representing Miss Mackaye, and Attorney Thomas P. White for Dr. Sul-
validity of the new indictment by
the filing of demurrers.According to the two prosecutors,
the indictment could give testimony valuable to the prosecution
knowledge of the visits paid to
his employer's apartment by Miss Mackaye and her chum, Helen Wilkinson. These visits and Kelly's friendship for Miss Mackaye, as
provoked Kelly's attack on Raymond,
which they will contend caused his
death.WAGNER TELLS OF NOTE
Max Wagner, room-mate of Kelly,
in his statement to Mr. Murray, declared that when he went to call
"Jungle" to the prosecutor's apartment, he found Kelly in a breakdown and that he was in a bad way.
Mr. Murray said he had been informed that "Jungle" was present at
several "gin parties" in Kelly's apartment when Miss Mackaye was a
guest, and that his testimony is of importance because of his position as
servant. It was said that the missing Japanese had prepared and
served some drinks admittedly served
on occasions when Miss Mackaye and
her chum were entertained by Kelly.Although the Japanese is said to have informed Kelly he was leaving
cated before the trial opens at the Judge Burnell. His testimony, together with that of other witnesses,
a motive for what the prosecution
will claim was a premeditated attack
upon Raymond.The trial of Kelly will get under way at 2 p.m. next Monday instead
of at 10 o'clock as first scheduled, it was announced by Judge Burnell yesterday. This change is due to his
law and motion calendar in the morning.

WEAR? Your customers could even DANCE on these New Armstrong Floors

TAKE a view of your office, store, or shop floors. You'll see many pairs of feet—all of them reasons why your floor-renewal bills are high—why cleaning costs mount up—why your floors never look attractive.

Yet the feet of your customers do no more than merely walk on your floors, stand on them, move slowly about. Suppose all these walking, standing feet should suddenly begin to scrape and slide, twist and turn, in the rhythm of a dance... could your floors stand this severe wear for long?

For a lifetime—if they are modern floors of Armstrong's Linoleum. Time and time again, in hotels, tea rooms, clubs, these floors have been put to the dancing test. A department store head says:

"The Armstrong Floors in our tea room have been danced on for years. They look even better today than when they were first cemented in place... And, their waxed and polished surface is remarkably easy to keep clean—at much less expense than any of our old floors."

Long wear... low cleaning costs... no repairs... and beauty. The new Armstrong business floors now on display at local department, furniture, and linoleum stores have all these virtues. And one more. Their first and last cost is surprisingly little.

A telephone call to any of these merchants will bring you samples of the newest Armstrong designs and an estimate for re-flooring—permanently re-flooring—any type of business interior.

Fifty Thousand Men, Women and Children Imperiled in Louisiana

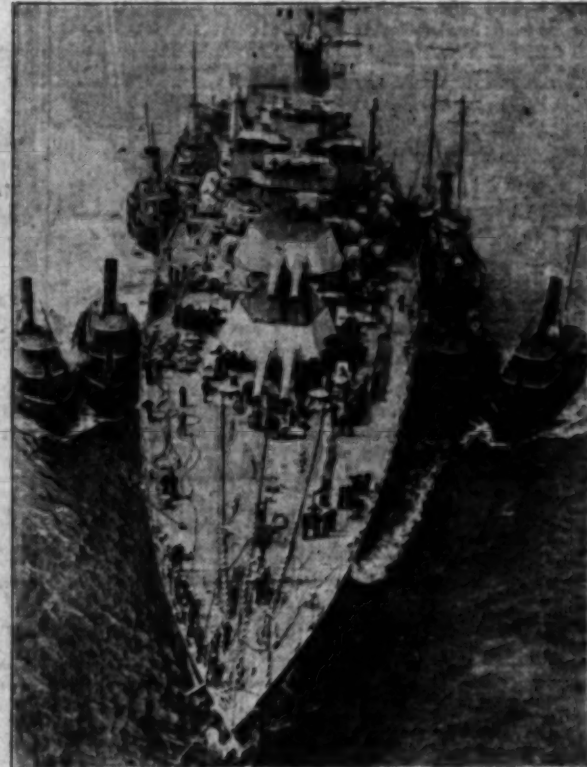

The immediate problem confronting the greatest relief machine ever assembled in the nation and operating in the flood-swept Mississippi Valley, is the rescue of 50,000 men, women and children, cut off in the lowlands of Louisiana by the repeated breaks in levees along the course of the mighty river. Every manner of craft is being employed in moving the homeless from perilous positions and carrying them to concentration camps. Some idea of the fury with which the waters rush through a levee break is conveyed in the photo at left, taken at south end of 1600-foot break dynamited in Poydras. At right, an airplane view of the southern edge of New Orleans a short distance above Poydras. Note at the left in this photo the lowlands, now under water. (P. & A. photos.)

OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 709

The End Draws Near.

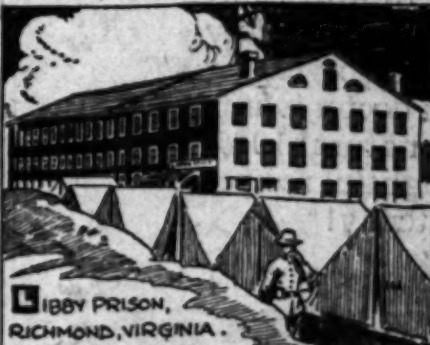

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE BEGINNING OF 1865 SAW THE CONFEDERACY ON THE VERGE OF COLLAPSE. TO DEFEND RICHMOND AND PETERSBURG, LEE HAD ONLY 50,000 RAGGED, ILL-FED SOLDIERS, WHILE FURTHER TO THE SOUTH JOHNSTON COULD MUSTER BUT 37,000 TO OPPOSE THE ADVANCE OF SHERMAN'S ARMY FROM SAVANNAH THROUGH THE CAROLINAS.

FEBRUARY 1ST, SHERMAN MARCHED NORTHWARD FROM SAVANNAH, DESTROYING MUCH CONFEDERATE PROPERTY ON THE WAY. ON FEB. 17TH, HIS TROOPS BURNED COLUMBIA, S. C., AND MARCH 16TH AND 17TH DEFEATED JOHNSTON IN TWO ENGAGEMENTS SOUTH OF GOLDSBORO, N. C. JOHNSTON RETREATED TO RALEIGH, PURSUED BY SHERMAN.

GRANT KNEW THE SOUTH WAS HARD-PRESSED FOR FIGHTING MEN, AND IN THE LAST MONTHS OF THE WAR REFUSED TO EXCHANGE PRISONERS. HE SAID THAT ANY UNION SOLDIER WHO DIED IN A SOUTHERN PRISON LAID DOWN HIS LIFE FOR HIS COUNTRY EQUALLY WITH ONE KILLED IN BATTLE.

ON FEB. 3, 1865, PRESIDENT LINCOLN OFFERED TO END THE WAR IF THE CONFEDERACY WOULD SUBMIT TO UNION AUTHORITY. DAVIS INSISTED THAT THE CONFEDERACY SHOULD BE RECOGNIZED AS AN INDEPENDENT NATION. TOMORROW—GRANT CLOSING IN ON THE CONFEDERACY.
